Get set. Ready. Go!

Sport Relief brings the nation together by inspiring us all to get active and raise life changing amounts of money through the power of sport. Last year, Sainsbury's Argos raised £8.1 million through fundraising and we're proud to be involved again, by working up a sweat to raise even more money towards the fight against inequality.

Where does the money raised go?

When you donate to Sport Relief you're investing in local organisations across the UK and around the world who are helping people living incredibly tough lives. Through their dedication, they offer support through 4 main missions:

Improve mental health support

Every year, 450 million people worldwide experience mental health problems, and the discrimination that comes with them. Sport Relief are helping to make sure they get the support and empathy they need.

Ensure people have a safe place to be

1 in 5 people around the world don't have adequate shelter. Day by day, person by person Sport Relief are working to ensure people have a safe place to call home.

Help children to survive and thrive

Every year, millions of children die before their fifth birthday, or grow up in poverty and neglect. Sport Relief are helping child after child survive and grow.

Reduce fear, violence and discrimination

The idea that some of us are worth less because of our gender leads to real violence, abuse and discrimination. Sports Relief are working for a world with less judgement and fear where people can take control of their lives.

How can I get involved?

Get your Sport Relief merchandise here

If you or someone you know has organised an event or you just want to show your support, pick up a Sport Relief badge, water bottle and so much more, to show your support. Or join the fight towards a better future with a Sport Relief wristband.

Simply add your Sport Relief merchandise to your Sainsbury's order, and a donation will go towards this great cause.
